

Farm Census Figures Out for Marion, Other Areas

Government Compiles Records, Giving Comparison for 1930 and 1935 Periods.

A drop of 34 per cent in hogs and an increase of 31 per cent in cattle in Marion county between April 1, 1935, and Jan. 1, 1935, are shown in preliminary figures from the 1935 federal farm census released today by the department of commerce. Reports from Hardin and Morrow counties also were released for publication.

Inventory items shown in the census are for Jan. 1, 1935, and April 1, 1935, and production items are for the calendar years of 1934 and 1935.

The reports are submitted by Director William L. Austin of the bureau of the census. Jan. 1, 1935 figures show 40,094 hogs and 19,220 cattle in this county. The 1930 census revealed 60,265 hogs in the county and 14,631 cattle.

Crop land harvested decreased slightly between 1929 and 1934. More than one-third of all the harvested crop land in the county was in corn in 1934. It totaled 45,346 acres. Of this amount 46,998 acres were harvested for grain with a production of 1,355,344 bushels, according to the report. The 1934 acreage of corn was 15 per cent below the 1929 acreage. However, the acreage harvested for grain last year was 25 per cent greater than in 1929. Wheat, Hay Acreage Up

Wheat and hay acreage increased, wheat by 99 per cent and hay by 15 per cent. In 1934 wheat was harvested from 25,290 acres and produced 433,569 bushels. Hay was harvested from 25,291 acres and produced 27,741 tons.

The 1935 census shows 2,655 farms in the county as compared with 1,851 in 1930. Farms operated by full owners numbered 1,004 this year as compared with 979 in 1930. Part owners operated 246 farms this year as compared with 214 five years ago. Only four farms in the county were operated by tenants this year. In 1930 there were nine.

The total value of farms, including land and buildings, was set at $12,552,344 as compared with a valuation figure of $11,207,026 in 1930. The average value per farm this year is set at $4,764, while in 1930 it was $6,057. The average value per acre is figured at $20.40, and in 1930 it was $25.02.

The number of farm acres in the county this year is given at 242,539, while in 1930 the amount of land was figured at 231,241 acres. The average acreage per farm for 1935 is 118 acres, and in 1930 it was 124.9 acres. Of this total acreage the land available for crops this year is set at 206,696 acres, and in 1930 there were 192,496 acres available.

There are 4,674 horses and colts, and 258 mules and mulish colts in the county this year. Five years ago there were 4,743 horses and colts and 460 mules and mulish colts. Sheep and lambs in 1935 numbered 54,351, as compared with 48,804 in 1930. There are now 9,805 cows and heifers two years old and older, as compared with 7,522 in 1930.

Oats threshed in 1934 totaled 21,590 acres, which produced 418,681 bushels, as compared with 1930 figures which show 24,962 acres of threshed oats producing 739,026 bushels. There were 118 acres of barley threshed, according to 1935 figures, which produced 1,910 bushels, and five years ago 1203 acres of barley were threshed which produced 24,416 bushels.

The 1935 figures show that 870 acres of rye were threshed, producing 13,408 bushels, and 1930 figures reveal 253 acres threshed which produced 3,891 bushels. Figures for 1935 show a production of 52,173 bushels of Irish potatoes as compared with 48,130 bushels five years ago. This year's census shows 23,741 tons of hay and sorghum for forage produced, as compared with 40,612 five years ago.

Crop failure in the county has not varied much, the figures from both census show. This year there were 2,857 acres and five years ago 2,074 acres. Crop land idle or fallow is given in 1935 as 7,657 acres and in 1930 as 3,405 acres.

Hardin County Figures
Hardin county grew more wheat, potatoes and hay in 1934 than in 1929, according to the census figures released today. The wheat acreage practically doubled, while the Irish potato acreage more than doubled, and the hay acreage increased 37 per cent. As a result, wheat production was 92 per cent greater and Irish potato production was almost three times that of 1929. The tonnage of hay, however, was 13 per cent less in 1934 than in 1929, despite the increased acreage.

The value of farm land and buildings in Hardin county decreased in the five-year period from $12,486,019 to $14,879,416. The average value per farm was set at $7,686 five years ago, and this year it is figured at $5,324. There were 2,151 farms in the county this year as compared with 2,542 in 1930.

Corn for all purposes was grown on 15 per cent fewer acres, but the acreage harvested for grain was 13 per cent higher. The production of corn was almost the same for the two years. The acreage of oats threshed declined 15 per cent and production 37 per cent. Horses and cattle showed increases of four per cent and 50 per cent, respectively, between April 1, 1930 and Jan. 1, 1935, while hogs declined 29 per cent. Mules, although not of great importance in Hardin county, showed a slight decline in numbers during this period. The number of farms increased a little over eight per cent during the five years, while land included in farms increased four per cent. Land in crops harvested was two per cent greater in 1934 than in 1929.

Morrow County Statistics
Cattle increased 40 per cent and grazing land 13 per cent during the five-year period in Morrow county, the census shows. Since the 1930 census there has been an increase of 13,140 acres in land used for pasture. The number of farms has increased 290 and total farm area 17,382 acres. The value of farm land and buildings has declined in this five-year period from $12,848,880 to $9,376,258.

In line with the marked increase in acreage of pasture and comparatively large feed crop production, cattle on farms in 1935 totaled 20,529 head, which was an increase of 8,531 above the number in 1930. Hogs were reduced over the period from 21,652 to 19,975, while the number of work animals increased along with the gain in number of farms.

The greatest acreage of crop land harvested in 1934 was in hay and sorghum for forage, which totaled 40,247 acres, with a production of 26,531 tons. Corn was harvested from 20,830 acres in 1934, with a production of 1,013,248 bushels, as compared with 532,642 bushels produced from 27,216 acres in 1929. Wheat harvested increased over this period from 15,267 acres and 273,904 bushels, to 21,302 acres and 284,667 bushels. Oats threshed showed little change in acreage and production, while the rye crop almost trebled. Irish potatoes increased from 1,208 acres and 127,674 bushels in 1930 to 1,761 acres and 178,241 bushels.

Franklin County Prosecutor Donald J. Hopkins, asked if the grand jury inquiry was over, replied "No, it is not over."
